

LSC2022 Organisation Agreement Form

January 2022

The _____, an organisation of approximately _____ people engaged in research and development of lifelog and information retrieval systems which is part of:

Corporation/Partnership/Legal Entity: _____

Official Mail Address: _____

Email of Contact: _____

Phone: _____

applies to receive/use the data designated as the LSC2022 Collection subject to the terms and conditions listed below. In what follows “the project” refers to the LSC2022 workshop. The understandings, terms and conditions apply equally to all, or part of, the data.

LSC2022 comprises image files and various forms of metadata gathered by a volunteer between 2019-2020. The collection is being made available to participants for use in the project, or in project related/follow-on research.

Given the nature of the LSC2022 Collection, it is not guaranteed that we have fully reviewed all of the files or to confirm the nature of the files or the data in the archive. DCU and the project organisers are not responsible for the data contained therein. Some of the data in the the LSC2022 Collection may contain objectionable material. Any user that feels that a file within the LSC2022 Collection is objectionable is encouraged to contact the organisers immediately. We reserve the right to remove any file from the LSC2022 Collection for any reason whatsoever at any time.

The terms and conditions that govern the use of the LSC2022 Collection are as follows:

- The data must only be used in the project, or in project related research. The data may not be shared with researchers outside of the organisation named above, or with any researchers from within their organisation who have not signed the individual agreement form.

- If notified by the organisers that a given file must be removed from the dataset, the data holder will immediately destroy all instances of that file. The data holder will maintain all records necessary to carry out such an immediate deletion.
- The task organisers (and their legal entities) do not accept any responsibility for the accuracy of the data or any metadata associated with the LSC2022 Collection.
- The anonymity of the individuals represented in the LSC2022 Collection must be respected. It is therefore not acceptable to try to identify individuals (either the data donors, or bystanders contained therein).
- The data must not be published online or via any other means. A sample of the data will be made available for publishing online or otherwise to all participants.
- Each organisation, and the individuals associated with that organisation, must take care to securely store the LSC2022 Collection and to respect the privacy of the individuals involved in gathering the data and represented within the data.
- Every individual who works with the LSC2022 Collection must sign an individual data release form and this must be kept by the organisation, and made available to organisers if requested to do so.
- Scientific or technical publications should adhere to community standards for fairness and objectivity and should accurately and clearly state the limitations of the testing conditions and other factors which might influence scores.
- For any publications emanating from research involving the LSC2022 Collection, the appropriate publication (to be announced on the LSC website) describing the dataset must be referenced.
